CHURCH BUYS MARBLE HALL

Famous Gettysburg Club House is Bought by Newly Organized Colored Congregation and will be Used by them.

Marble Hall, a building which has possibly been used for more separate purposes than any structure now in Gettysburg, was this morning sold to the newly organized St. John's Baptist congregation and will be converted from its present state for use as church and Sunday School. The congregation bought it from C. B. Tate for $420. Mr. Tate bought the building for $350 only last Saturday at public sale from the Gettysburg Social Club.

The "edifice" is located in the Third Ward near Long Lane and was first used as a colored church and school building. It was then the only colored church in the town but later the two congregations came into existence and each had its own house of worship as at present. The school authorities found another building for the colored school and the old house became a dwelling. Several families lived in it and some years ago it went into other hands.

Under the name of "Marble Hall" it continued for some time to be the gathering place for a number of pleasure loving Gettysburgians and numerous functions of more or less interest to citizens generally were held there.

The building was sold Saturday together with much equipment for camping purposes. Mr. Tate's possession of the structure continued for but a short time, negotiations for its purchase by St. John's congregation being started a few hours afterward and the deal was closed this morning.

EACH DEER $35

Calculation of the Expenses Attached to Game Protection.

The cost to the State of each deer killed by hunters is $35, and this is argument used by the advocates of the hunters' license bill, which provides that a license fee of $1 must be paid for a permit to hunt.

Though handicapped by the lack of funds the State Game Commission is making strenuous efforts to provide sport royal for the 230,000 sportsmen in the State. The commission has already established five game preserves. These are located on the forest preserves of the State in Perry, Franklin, Westmoreland, Clinton and Clearfield counties, and each game preserve is nine miles in circumference, surrounded by a single wire fence. Hunters are forbidden to shoot game in these preserves at any time of year, or even to carry a gun on the preserve.

The game commission last year obtained from Yellowstone Park 50 head of elk, 25 of which were placed in the Clinton county preserve and twenty-five in the Clearfield county preserve. Not long ago 57 head of deer obtained in Michigan were placed in the Perry and Westmoreland county preserves.

The record of the game commission show that last fall 819 buck deer were killed, and 67 doe deer. There is a law against killing the latter. Bears to the number of 135 were killed in the State. Pennsylvania is said to rank high among the States in the number of deer killed within its boundaries.

TESTING OUT THE ORDINANCE

Testimony Heard in Case of the Borough vs Holtzworth and Hoffman. Will Argue Case before Court. Question at Issue.

Squire Hill heard testimony this morning in the case of the Borough of Gettysburg vs. Holtzworth & Hoffman for the purpose of testing the validity of the ordinance of 1904 regulating hack licenses. Suit was brought for $22.00 the amount which the firm has been paying for some years past which provides for the running of six vehicles at one time, the maximum amount which the firm is alleged to use.

Borough Solicitor Robert E. Wible conducted the borough's side of the case and George J. Benner, Esq., represented the defendants. Judgment will be entered for the amount claimed and the constitutionality and validity of the ordinance will come before Court for argument at a date to be determined upon later.

At this morning's hearing C. B. Kitzmiller, secretary of the town council, produced the ordinance in dispute and Mr. Holtzworth admitted that $22.00 was the amount he had paid in the past and which, as Burgess, he had demanded from his firm.

The ordinance provides that $5 shall be the charge for a one horse vehicle and that after two licenses are taken out every succeeding vehicle shall be charged at the rate of $3 each. The custom in the past for livery firms has been to take out two of these one-horse vehicle licenses and then to get the licenses for the large two and four horse wagons at $3 each. This has been the generally accepted practice and has been judged fair in other years.

It developed at the hearing that there was no certificate of publication of the disputed ordinance. It was passed while H. S. Benner was Burgess of the town, and has been in effect ever since, the license being collected each year until 1912 when Burgess Holtzworth collected about thirty of the licenses until he was informed, he claims, by attorneys connected with council that the ordinance would not stand a test and that the hackmen could not be compelled to pay under its provisions.

The time of the hearing was not generally known and as a result only the persons directly concerned were present, the other hackmen not having the pleasure of being in the audience.

CAME HERE IN FREIGHT TEST

Endeavor to Show that Automobile Can Transact Freight Faster and Cheaper than the Railroads. Had Trouble Near Town.

The large Alco motor truck, which is carrying three tons of paint from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh in an effort to demonstrate that such delivery is faster and cheaper than freight, passed through Gettysburg this morning.

The car was scheduled to reach Gettysburg on Tuesday evening and, in fact, did get within two miles of town but stuck on the York pike east of Gettysburg when they reached the portion of the road that has recently been graded. They arrived at that place about ten o'clock Tuesday evening and the vehicle stayed there until after seven o'clock to-day when it got out and came on into town. After taking breakfast here the men in charge proceeded on their way. No time was lost as far as the schedule was concerned as it provided for departure from Gettysburg this morning and it is probable that the big car will get through its day's run, barring further trouble, at the time specified.

The truck is one of the largest which has ever made its appearance in Gettysburg. It is even larger than the big Alco trucks which were here last summer for the National Guard encampment. The body is considerably higher and the mission of the big car is painted all over the sides.

The route and schedule was carefully mapped out before leaving Philadelphia and the arrival in Pittsburgh as prophesied was confidently expected when Gettysburg was left behind about nine o'clock this morning.

The run is one of the first of its sort that has come through here and the car was carefully inspected by the auto-wise during its brief stay in Gettysburg.

ODD FELLOWS' NIGHT

Members of Order Pay Fraternal Visit to Littlestown Lodge.

Monday evening was Odd Fellows Night at Littlestown, when delegations from Red Lion, York and Hanover lodges paid a fraternal visit to the Littlestown lodge, and the Red Lion degree team conferred the first and second degree on a class of eight candidates.

The Red Lion and York lodges, accompanied by a number of ladies went to Hanover on two chartered cars, and from there they proceeded to Littlestown in special cars over the trolley line, being joined by the Hanover delegation.

The first work of the evening was the conferring of the degrees, which was exemplified by the Red Lion team, after which the doors were thrown open to the ladies and a difficult drill was executed by the team.

It is estimated that over 150 members of the order from York, Red Lion, Dover, and Dallastown were present, while nearly 50 members of the Hanover and Portia Rebekah lodges attended. There were Odd Fellows present also from Hanover, Taneytown, Westminster and Gettysburg, and it is estimated that 400 were crowded in the lodge room.

COUNTERFEITERS

Neighboring Co. Looking for Counterfeiter Thought to be Operating.

Some person in York County is turning out counterfeit quarters and half dollars. At least this is the belief of York detectives, who are making an investigation in the hope of finding a counterfeiting plant similar to those revealed within this section within the last several years. Counterfeit quarter dollars have turned up recently at a number of banks. Cashier D. B. Hartman, of the Union National Bank, Mt. Wolf, discovered one of the coins Tuesday. The impressions upon it were crude, somewhat irregular. The date is 1911.

POISON PEN CASE

Local People Concerned in Poison Pen Case at Hughesville.

The town of Hughesville, in the central part of the state, has been agitated by the presence of a "poison pen writer" who has sent letters of a scandalous character and others demanding money from many residents of the town. Rev. Rene H. Williams, Lutheran minister at Hughesville, who is well known in Gettysburg, received a number of letters. Three parties have been arrested largely through the efforts of R. E. Tipton, of the State Constabulary, and a Gettysburg boy.

KING OF GREECE ASSASSINATED

Victim of Murderer's Hand in Salonika, Turkey.

CROWN PRINCE SUCCEEDS

Monarch Was Shot in the Back by an Insane Greek While Walking in the Street, and Died in Half an Hour.

Salonika, Turkey, March 19.—King George of Greece was shot and mortally wounded by an apparently insane man while walking in the streets here, and died half an hour later.

The king and one of his aides were walking along the street, when a Greek named Aleko Schoinas came up behind them and fired from a revolver point blank into the back of the king. King George fell to the ground and died half an hour later.

The man, Schoinas, who is apparently insane, was immediately arrested. Prince Nicholas, one of the sons of King George, who was appointed governor of Janina when the Greeks captured that place, immediately notified Crown Prince Constantine, who is at Janina, of the event, which now makes him the new king of Greece. He also telegraphed the information to Athens and to the relatives of King George in Denmark, England, Germany and Russia.

Prince Nicholas then summoned the officers of the army and administered to them the oath of fealty to King Constantine.

There is nothing to suggest that the murder was a political one or anything else than the act of a maniac. Order has in no wise been disturbed by the assassination.

The queen of Greece has also been in Salonika and has paid great attention to the care of the sick and wounded soldiers.

King George in December had a meeting in Salonika with King Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, to discuss the fate of the captured Turkish territory after the war had come to an end.

King George I. of Greece suffered in the late years of his life from abscesses caused by an attack of grippe. Like all the children of King Christian, he was deaf, and he was subject to pains in the ears and severe headaches. At times his malady has been so severe that he seriously contemplated abdicating in favor of his son, the gigantic Crown Prince Constantine. He was a brother of the late king of Denmark, the dowager queen of Great Britain and the dowager empress of Russia.

King George was a remarkable personage in many respects. He was both brave and serious, and at the same time gay and amiable. When he presided over the cabinet councils at the palace he astonished his ministers by the clearness of his judgment, his great perspicacity and a good humor which never left him. After the council he had always a kind word to say to everybody. When he was a midshipman in the Danish navy he never dreamed that he would be the successor of King Otto of Bavaria. The national assembly proclaimed him king of the Hellenes on March 30, 1883. He was then seventeen years old, having been born on Dec. 24, 1845. On Oct. 30, of the same year, he arrived at Athens, and on the morrow he took the oath and mounted the throne.

Next to the emperor of Austria he was the oldest of the sovereigns of Europe. His figure was well known in Paris, where he might be seen nearly every year. He was the most "Parisian" monarch to be found in the world. Of medium stature and martial bearing, with eyes soft and expressive, he preserved the Danish type almost intact, in spite of the fact that in Greece he was an Athenian of Athenians. He might have been called the King Democrat, having been able to secure the sympathies of the people of France, and when he went to France the republicans applauded him, although he was a monarch.

King George as the father of a family might serve as a model. The first thing he thought of was the education and welfare of his children. At the time of the departure of Prince George for Crete, in 1899, there was a painful scene at the palace. The king, notwithstanding the efforts he made to hide his emotion, could not withhold his tears, and when his son threw himself into his arms, asking if he had any orders to give him, King George replied, in a voice full of affection: "I have no orders to give you, my child. Providence will guide you, Go, and rely on the grace of God."

On Oct. 27, 1887, King George married the Grand Duchess Olga Constantinovna, of Russia. Their children were Prince Constantine, born the following year; Prince George, born in 1889; Prince Nicholas, born in 1892; Prince Christopher, born in 1888, and one daughter, Princess Marie, who was born in 1878.

Soldiers Prevent Prize Fight. Sapulpa, Okla., March 19.—Adjutant General Canton and a squad of national guardsmen from Tulsa, acting under orders of Governor Cruce, stopped the scheduled ten-round fight between Carl Morris and "Jim" Stewart, of New York. No intimation was given that the bout would not be permitted until about three or four days ago.

SUFFRAGETTES CAUSE GLASH IN COMMONS

Attack Home Secretary For Releasing Hunger Strikers.

London, March 19.—Exciting scenes occurred in the house of commons when the methods of the government in dealing with the militant suffragettes were criticised.

Harold Smith, a Unionist member, declared that the passive submission of the authorities to hunger strikes and the subterfuges of the women had brought ridicule on the government.

At the end of the attack upon the government Mr. Smith dramatically turned to the home secretary, Mr. McKenna, and demanded his resignation. "You are a hopeless failure, sir," he shouted; "this present serious state of affairs can only be ended by strong men."

Lord Robert Cecil, another Unionist member, foresaw the possibility of lynch law if the fanatical women were allowed to continue their tactics. He advocated the deportation of the militant suffragettes for an indefinite period.

Sir Arthur Markham, a Liberal member, said there was a conspiracy on foot among the militant suffragettes to kidnap Home Secretary McKenna. He hoped the forcible feeding awaiting the home secretary would give him the backbone he lacked at present.

The home secretary grew indignant under the attacks and defended his actions with considerable warmth. He told how one woman in prison sponged herself all over with hot water and remained uncovered all night in the hope of catching her death of cold. Others pretended to take their food but surreptitiously starved themselves so as to become exhausted and die in prison. Some had voluntarily self-tortured themselves by thirst, refusing to touch milk or water.

FREE AFTER 37 YEARS

Pennsylvanian Convicted of Murder in 1875 Granted Parole.

Waukegan, Wis., March 19.—Edward Eckart, of Pennsylvania, was paroled from the Wisconsin penitentiary, after thirty-seven years of actual time served behind the bars.

Eckart was convicted of murder when twenty-one years old. His victim was Charles Peterson, also of Pennsylvania. The two were tramping in Wisconsin during the excessively cold weather of 1875. In a quarrel Peterson was killed and Eckart was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder. He never admitted the crime, maintaining that Peterson was killed by a tramp.

In the thirty-seven years of prison confinement never a mark or demerit has been placed against Eckart. He cannot leave Wisconsin, and his conduct must be exemplary in every way.

114 ARSON WARRANTS

Among the Accused Are Some Wealthy Business Men of Chicago.

Chicago, March 19.—One hundred and fourteen warrants for thirty-one alleged members of the "arson ring" were issued by Judge Wade in the municipal court at the instance of Assistant State's Attorney Johnston.

Twenty-eight of those named in the warrants are business men, some of them wealthy.

In some cases three warrants charging separate offenses were taken out against one person. They charge arson, burning to defraud and conspiracy to defraud.

In the arson cases the bonds were fixed at $40,000, and where there was an additional charge against an individual charged with arson an additional bond of $20,000 was required.

Wilson For a Budget System

Washington, March 19.—President Wilson is in favor of a budget system for the conduct of the government's finances. He made public a letter written on Jan. 29 from Trenton to Senator Tillman, expressing the hope that a budget system might be worked out after he got to Washington.

Geographical Game.
 Sent the players in a ring. Let the first one say aloud the name of a city, mountain, river, lake, etc., located in any part of the world, or any division of the earth previously agreed upon.
 The next player must then give a name beginning with the last letter of the name just given, and the third must supply one beginning with the final letter of the second, and so on around the circle. Thus: America, Athens, Salem, Mobile, Erie, Ecuador, Rochester, Rome, etc.
 Each player is allowed thirty seconds in which to think. If by the end of that time he fails to supply a name he must drop out of the game. The one who keeps up longest is champion.
 Any player may at any time be challenged to give the geographical location of the place he has named. If he cannot do this he must pay a forfeit.

Game of Watchman.
 Have a sheet or screen so placed that shadows may be cast upon it. Facing it have one of the players sitting in such a position that he can see only the screen, not anything that is going on behind him. This player is called "the watchman." Now, behind the watchman and at such a distance that there is space for a person to walk between the watchman and the light place a candle.
 The object of the game is for the watchman to guess from the shadows cast who is passing behind him.
 The players, going one by one, may disguise themselves by limping, bowing the head or wearing a hat, but generally the watchman, if he is discerning, may detect the player by some peculiarity. For every one he guesses correctly a forfeit must be paid by the one discovered.

Poetry and the Child.
 Read poetry to the child. Read easy, simple verse, read nonsense verse, read real poems, read sometimes such poems as "Thanatopsis" and bits of "Paradise Lost." Of course the child will not understand the thought, but he will enjoy the sound, and he will unconsciously learn the words. Poetry was never meant to be read to oneself, but always to be read aloud or recited. It is harder than prose. The order of the words is often like our everyday speech, and the words themselves are frequently different. Here especially children need help. If they find it they learn to love poetry, and there are few things that so sweeten life as a genuine love for poetry for its beauty and for the helpful lines that come to one's mind in hard places.—Home Progress Magazine.

DELAWARE AGAINST DIRECT ELECTION

Senate Defeats Popular Choice of U. S. Senators.

Dover, Del., March 19.—With only four more states needed, Delaware refused to join in the affirmative states in ratifying direct election of United States senators.
 The senate killed the house resolution by the following vote: Yeas, 6; nays, 10.
 Senator Gormley, Democrat, leading the advocates of popular election, declared that more scandals blot the escutcheon of the United States, because of legislative elections than were heard of elsewhere in American politics.
 Senator Walker, Republican, leading the opposition, declared that the deliberate choice of senators by sworn assemblymen was one of the greatest heritages handed down by our constitutional constructors.
 "It serves as a check on wild movements with which people occasionally sympathize and of which they later repent," he said.
 Three Republicans and three Democrats supported direct elections.

GETS THREAT FROM PRISON

Convicts Promise "to Get" Man Who Testified Against Them.

Rock Haven, Pa., March 19.—Harry Roundley, a locomotive engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad, turned over to the court a letter he received from three highwaymen doing time in the western penitentiary.
 Four years ago, in Renovo, two white men and a colored man held up Roundley and robbed him of his watch and pay envelope.
 Later they hid in a refrigerator car on Roundley's train, where they were trapped by a brakeman. Roundley's evidence sent them to prison.
 Tuesday a man returning from the penitentiary brought to Roundley a letter, in which the men, who expect to be freed soon, promised Roundley that they would "get him."

WILSON FOR OPEN DOOR IN CHINA

He Repudiates Knox's "Dollar Diplomacy" Policy.

DECLINES BANKERS' REQUEST

The President Disapproves of Governmental Endorsement of Loan to China.

Washington, March 19.—Reputation by President Wilson of the Knox policy with regard to China and the proposed six power loan of $125,000,000 to that republic was announced at the White House.
 A statement from the president's own hand says that the new administration has declined to request the New York bankers interested to continue their participation in the six power negotiations. Mr. Wilson has taken this action because he does not approve of the conditions of the proposed loan or the responsibilities implied in governmental endorsement of the proposition.
 This means that J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the First National bank and the National City bank, representing the American interests, will withdraw from co-operation with the bankers of the other five powers, Great Britain, Germany, France, Russia and Japan. Also the United States government will withdraw from the loan arrangement.
 This action by President Wilson is the first repudiation of a policy of the Taft administration. It probably fore shadows the turning down by the new regime of other features of the Knox "dollar diplomacy" program.
 The Wilson declaration does not mean, however, that the way is blocked for the lending of American money to China. Now that the six power combination is dissolved any group of American bankers will be at liberty to negotiate with China independently of the bankers of the other five nations. This is what is expected to follow.
 President Wilson speaks very plainly in his statement. He holds that the past policy of the United States to ward the Chinese loan involves responsibilities that are obnoxious to the principles upon which the American government rests, and that the restrictive conditions imposed on China menace the administrative independence of that republic.
 The new president pledges himself, however, to the promotion of all legitimate American commercial enterprises in China, but only through the "open door"—the "door of friendship and mutual advantage." His statement is therefore a reaffirmation of the policy enunciated toward China by John Hay.
 Mr. Wilson pledges himself further to the support of legislative measures necessary to the development of American banking facilities in the Far East.

STEEL EARNINGS

$117,926,402 IN 1912

221,025 Persons on Pay Roll of the Corporation.

New York, March 19.—A noteworthy feature of the eleventh annual report of the United States Steel corporation, covering the operations for the year 1912, is the change in the corporation's system of bookkeeping.
 The total earnings are given as $117,926,402, this being "exclusive of charges for interest on bonds and mortgages of subsidiary companies." In previous years total earnings were stated, after this deduction was made, and compared with this year's "balance of earnings," which are given as $108,174,673.
 These latter figures compare with $104,305,465 in 1911.
 Net income for 1912 was $77,075,217, a decrease of $1,250,222 from 1911. Depreciation and replacement funds amounted to $22,734,365, an increase of $1,505,306. Surplus net income for 1912 was $3,605,247, a decrease of $1,060,247.
 Expenditures totaled $48,748,430, an increase of $3,788,172. These were paid from funds provided from earnings to cover requirements.
 In 1912 the corporation mined 26,428,449 tons of iron ore, against 19,332,631 in 1911. Its output of coke also was much larger, likewise its blast furnace production and output of steel ingots. Total production of rolled and finished steel for sale was 12,506,619 tons, against 9,476,248 tons in 1911.
 The average number of employees in the service of the corporation for 1912 was 221,025, as against 196,888 in 1911. Total annual salaries and wages in 1912 aggregated $189,351,802, an increase of $27,832,571 over 1911.

ALFONSO SERIOUSLY ILL

His Appearance and It Is Feared His Lungs Are Affected.

St. Louis, March 19.—Court officers no longer can hide the fact that King Alfonso's health is in a precarious condition.
 An order, just issued, forbidding the taking of snapshot pictures of his majesty is generally accepted by the public as confirmation of recent reports.
 Despite the ostensible optimism of the royal physicians, it is obvious to everyone who sees him at close range that the king is very far from being well. It is feared that the young king's lungs are seriously affected, which causes little surprise, as his father died of tuberculosis.
 10,000 Jobs Open in Pittsburgh.
 Pittsburgh, Pa., March 19.—Contractors in this city announce that there are 10,000 jobs waiting for workmen here, that many men are needed to carry on building operations and to fill the steel plants.

BOSS COX INDICTED

Charged With Misapplication of the Funds of Defunct Bank.
 Cincinnati, O., March 19.—George B. Cox, former president of the defunct Cincinnati Trust company, and for many years known in political circles as "Boss" Cox, two former officers of the company and eight members of the board of directors were named in sealed indictments returned by the grand jury.
 One indictment of nine counts charges the "misapplication" of $115,000 of the bank's money through alleged illegal loans to the Ford & Johnson Chair company, now in the hands of receivers.
 The other, in five counts, charges the abstraction of a $352,000 note by three officers and six directors of the bank, with intent to injure and defraud the Cincinnati Trust company.

MIND BLANK 19 YEARS; CURED

Woman Awakes Calling For Her "Baby." Now a Mother Herself.
 Atlanta, Ga., March 19.—Her mind a blank for nineteen years since her daughter was born, Mrs. Carrie Belk Jordan awoke following an operation and asked for her "baby."
 Mrs. Jordan could not realize that the tall young woman, now herself the mother of two children, was her daughter.
 The operation by which Mrs. Jordan's memory was restored was considered a remarkable one by physicians. It was performed nearly a month ago at a sanatorium, but its success was not assured until now.

STEEL EARNINGS

221,025 Persons on Pay Roll of the Corporation.

New York, March 19.—A noteworthy feature of the eleventh annual report of the United States Steel corporation, covering the operations for the year 1912, is the change in the corporation's system of bookkeeping.
 The total earnings are given as $117,926,402, this being "exclusive of charges for interest on bonds and mortgages of subsidiary companies." In previous years total earnings were stated, after this deduction was made, and compared with this year's "balance of earnings," which are given as $108,174,673.
 These latter figures compare with $104,305,465 in 1911.
 Net income for 1912 was $77,075,217, a decrease of $1,250,222 from 1911. Depreciation and replacement funds amounted to $22,734,365, an increase of $1,505,306. Surplus net income for 1912 was $3,605,247, a decrease of $1,060,247.
 Expenditures totaled $48,748,430, an increase of $3,788,172. These were paid from funds provided from earnings to cover requirements.
 In 1912 the corporation mined 26,428,449 tons of iron ore, against 19,332,631 in 1911. Its output of coke also was much larger, likewise its blast furnace production and output of steel ingots. Total production of rolled and finished steel for sale was 12,506,619 tons, against 9,476,248 tons in 1911.
 The average number of employees in the service of the corporation for 1912 was 221,025, as against 196,888 in 1911. Total annual salaries and wages in 1912 aggregated $189,351,802, an increase of $27,832,571 over 1911.

ALFONSO SERIOUSLY ILL

His Appearance and It Is Feared His Lungs Are Affected.

St. Louis, March 19.—Court officers no longer can hide the fact that King Alfonso's health is in a precarious condition.
 An order, just issued, forbidding the taking of snapshot pictures of his majesty is generally accepted by the public as confirmation of recent reports.
 Despite the ostensible optimism of the royal physicians, it is obvious to everyone who sees him at close range that the king is very far from being well. It is feared that the young king's lungs are seriously affected, which causes little surprise, as his father died of tuberculosis.

DEMONSTRATION

Will Hold Demonstration Near Aspers,
Monday, March 24th.

A state ordered demonstration will be held in the orchard of Jacob Gochenour, near Aspers, on Monday, March 24th. It is one of many similar events held in various sections of the state.

It is expected that the attendance this spring will be larger even than that of previous seasons, judging from the interest shown by orchard owners who write requesting this service. Special features of these meetings will be modern pruning and a demonstration of the method of boiling the concentrated lime-sulfur solution, which can be stored in vessels and used as needed. All persons who are planning to undertake the work of spraying and pruning during the present season are invited to attend the meeting, which begins at 1 o'clock.

He Made Sure.

A Harvard student, who for obvious reasons does not care to have his name appear, passed up this one: "A cousin of mine in the western part of the state came to Boston for a visit and dropped out to Cambridge to call on me. He asked if he could share my room with me that night, and I told him he could if he came in early enough. He started for a theater, and when midnight came without any trace of him I called in my regular room mate, who had sought quarters elsewhere to make room for my cousin. I decided that my relative was going to make a night of it in town.
"We had hardly got to sleep, however, when he came in, bringing a highly flavored breath. We said nothing, and he soon climbed into the bed with us. Everything was quiet for a few moments, when suddenly he sat up, put his mouth close to my ear and whispered, 'Jim, there are six feet in this bed.' 'Forget it,' I said. 'You're crazy.' With that he climbed out, groped his way around to the foot of the bed and began to paw our feet. 'You're right,' he said, after a minute. 'I've counted 'em, and there's only four.'"

MRS. WM. ARCHER

Tells Mothers What To Do For Delicate Children.

"My fourteen year old daughter was very thin and delicate. She had a bad cough so that I became alarmed about her health. She was nervous and did not sleep well, had very little appetite and doctors did not help her. Having heard so much about Vinol, I decided to give it a trial. It has helped her wonderfully. She can sleep all night now without coughing once, in fact her cough has gone. Her appetite is greatly improved and she has gained in weight. Vinol is a wonderful medicine and I will always keep it in the house. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children." Mrs. Wm. Archer, Long Branch, N. J.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil is a wonderful body builder and strength creator for both young and old. We promise to give back your money in every such case where Vinol does not benefit. This shows our faith in Vinol. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Penna.

WOMEN PLEAD FOR AND AGAINST VOTE

They Argue Before State Senate Committee.

LARGE DELEGATIONS ATTEND

Brilliant Array of Suffragists and Antis Gave Their Views on Right to Ballot.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 19.—Women crowded Capitol Hill to demand the ballot on one hand and argue against it on the other.

Suffragist speakers pleaded earnestly before the judiciary general committee of the senate for the right to go to the polls, asserting that it would mean greater and better things for Pennsylvania.

Anti-suffragists, no less earnestly and not a whit less eloquently, pleaded that they be not thrust into the maelstrom of politics, but be permitted to govern the home instead of the state.

Several special train loads of the fair sex came to Harrisburg from Philadelphia and other parts of the state, and all regular trains added to the throng.

The advocates of equal suffrage occupied half of the chamber to the left of the presiding officer, while the "antis" occupied the other half. The suffragists wore yellow badges or yellow daffodils, while the anti-suffragists were adorned with red, white and blue bow knots and red roses and pink carnations.

There was not a foot of standing room left in the senate chamber. The galleries, aisles and the deep window seats were all occupied to the limit. The main floor resembled a great flower bed, aflame with variegated blooms, a prairie of milliners' flowers, seen from the president pro tem's platform.

For upwards of two and a half hours the suffragists and their opponents, senators, representatives and others listened to the arguments for and against votes for women, but throughout not a person, so far as could be seen, left the chamber.

Mrs. Lucretia Blankenburg, wife of Mayor Blankenburg, of Philadelphia, spoke briefly for the suffragists and got a flattering reception. She was loudly applauded when, turning to Senator James P. McNichol, who sat listening intently from first to last, she said: "I ask my senator, Senator McNichol, to grant me justice." Turning to Senator McIlhenny, chairman of the committee, and his associates, she added: "We will bring you a moral, educated and new citizenship. Gentlemen, graciously grant us the favor of this new test."

Senator McNichol frankly met Mrs. Blankenburg's glance and smiled in acknowledgment of the plea made to him.

Mrs. Mary E. Bakewell, of Pittsburgh, tall and stately, with Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, of New York, made the principal speeches for the suffragists.

Mrs. A. J. George, of Brookline, Mass., organizer and field secretary of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, who followed Mrs. Herman Brock and Mrs. Blankenburg, spoke longest for the anti-suffragists. She made a "hit" with Senator McNichol and other senators and representatives opposed to giving the ballot to women and who have made no secret of their opposition.

So tense was the feeling at times between the women demanding the ballot, or at least insisting that their right to it be submitted to the test of a popular vote, and the anti-suffragists that it was necessary for women who had evidently been appointed monitors to rise in front of the respective forces and urge that there be no demonstration of hostility.

The Rockwell bill, calling for an amendment to the constitution to extend the privilege of the ballot to women, is the subject under consideration. It has passed the house, but has not been reported from Mr. McIlhenny's committee to the senate. A poll of the members of the upper chamber several weeks ago showed it to be about equally divided on the question of submitting the resolution to the voters at large. The amendment must pass during the session of 1915 and be approved by the voters later to become effective.

Dr. Friedmann's Patients Improve.

New York, March 19.—Sixteen of the tubercular patients Dr. Frederick Friedmann tried March 8 at the office of Dr. George Mannheimer, met the Berlin physician at the same place, and every one of them showed signs of improvement. One of the patients, who had been suffering from tuberculosis of the knee and who at the time of Dr. Friedmann's injection could do little more than bear his weight on the leg end, was able to bend his knee with ease. Two patients who had been suffering severe pains from tuberculosis of the kidneys and bladder said that they were now scarcely aware of pain and had great relief.
